THE BURUSHO OF HUNZA

342 The Hunza dwelling house is a fortress-like cube of stone and mud whose front door is screened from the hostile outer air by a barn,

102

342 the door of which is strategically placed at right angles to, and some 354 distance from, the main door. The only ventilation is the central 171 smoke-hole of highly elaborate construction, three wooden frames

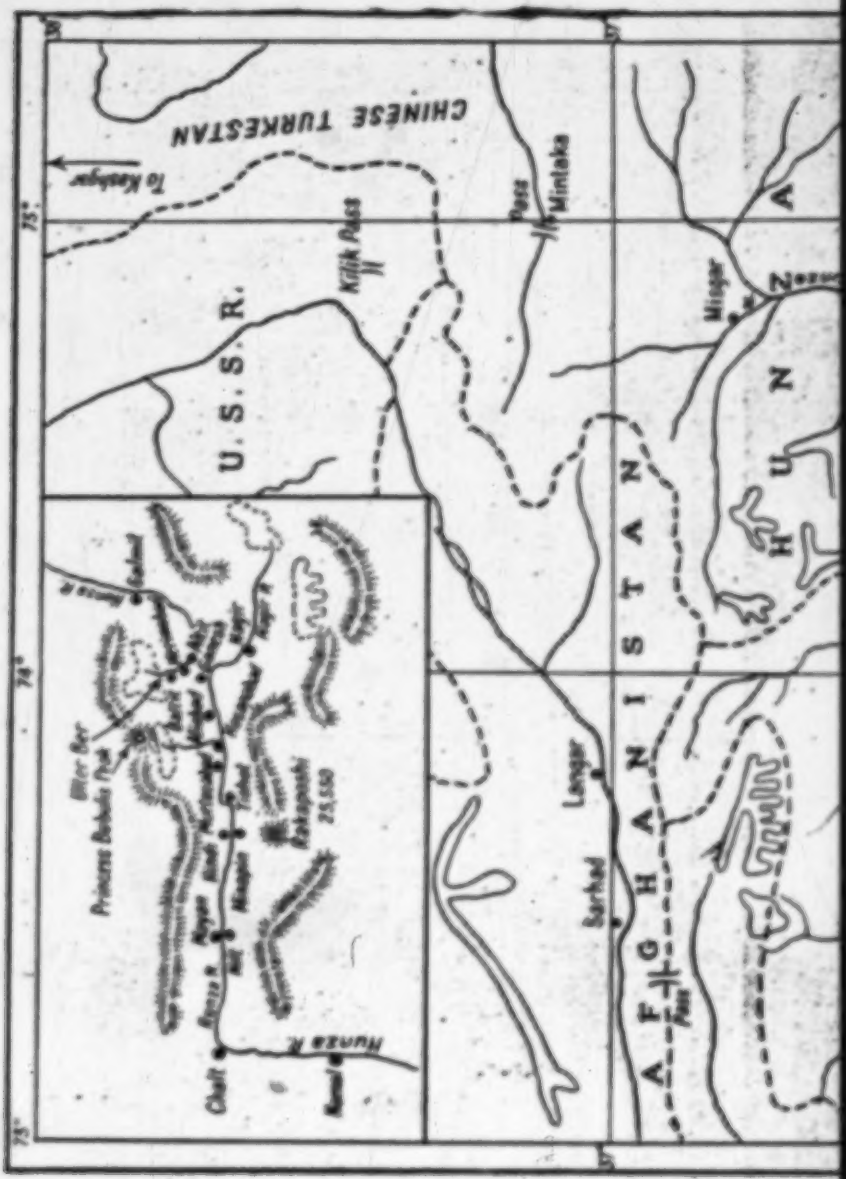
2: Lorimer T-8 (1920-4; 1934-5) 1939 AV7 Burushe AV7

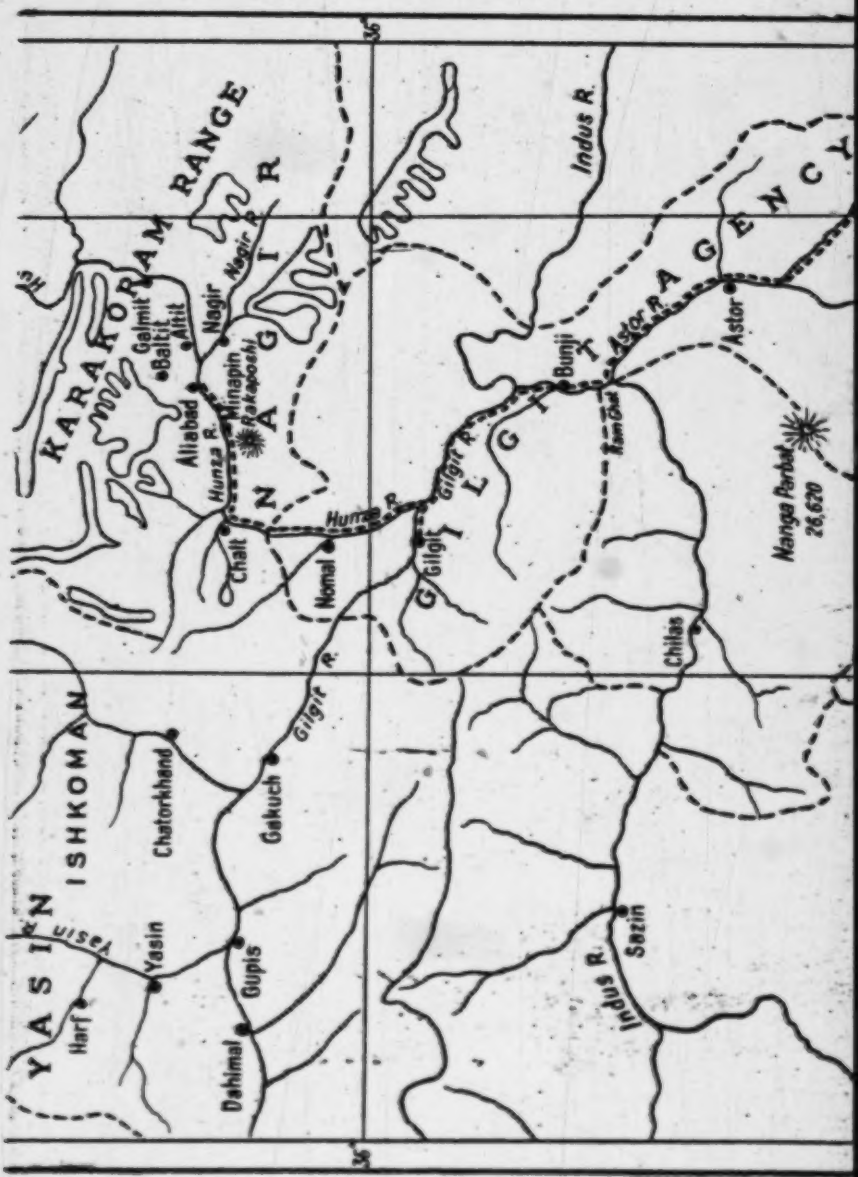
• 102



End Map (1)

2; Lorimer T-3 (1920-4; 1934-5) 1939 AV7 Burusho AV7

• 102



End map (2)

End Map (3)

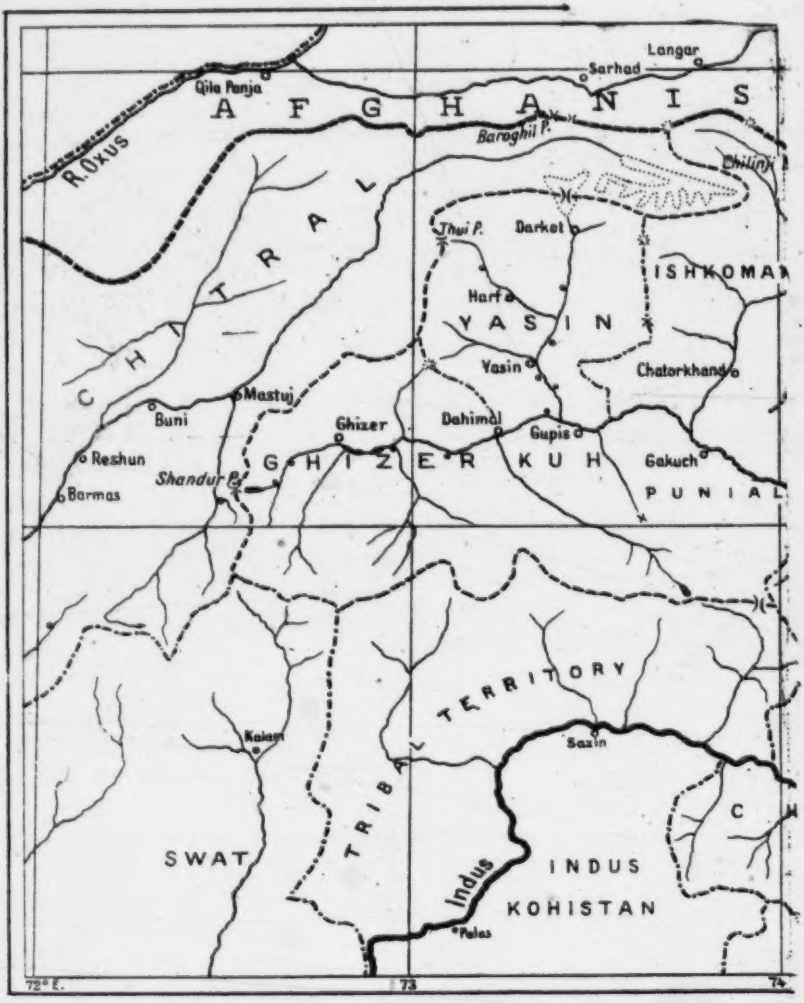
2: Lorimer T-3 (1920-4; 1934-5) 1939 AV7 Burusho AV7

Printed in Great Britain

For use in the book "Language Hunting in the Karakoram," published by George Allen & Unwin Ltd., London

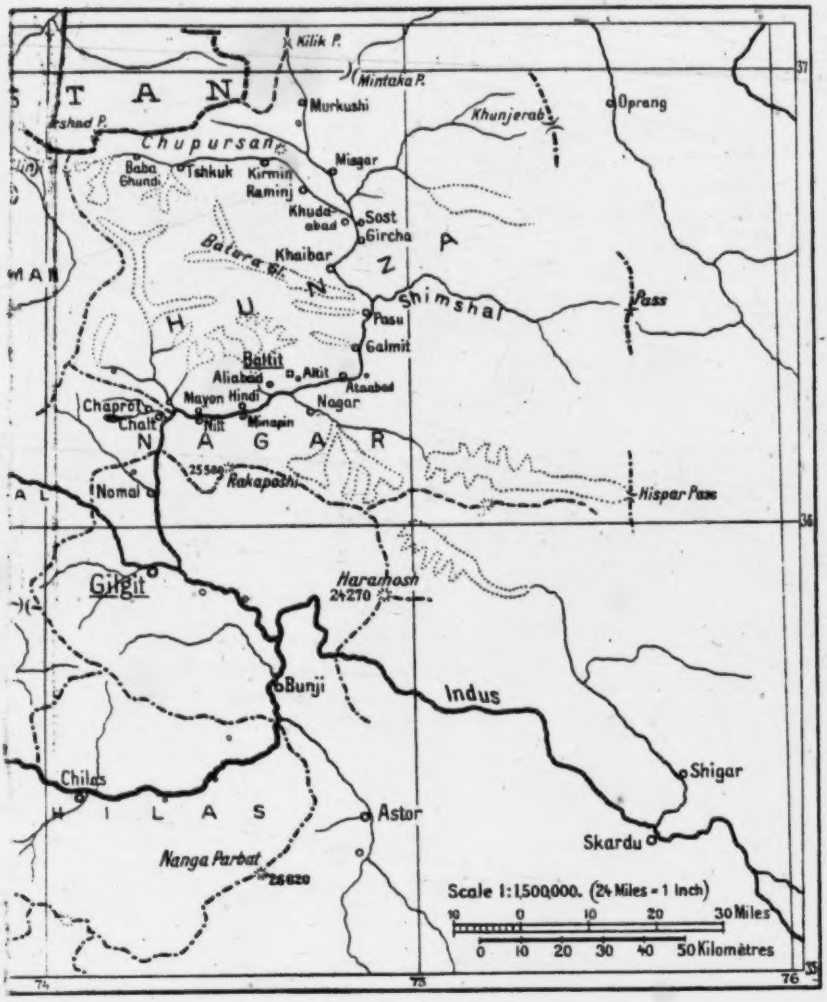
32 Lorimer L-3 (1920-4; 1934-5) 1935 AV7 Burusho AV7

●102



End Map (A)

●102



Kilik P.
Mintaka P.
Murkushi
Oprang
Khunjerab
Chupursan
Misgar
Baba Ghundi
Tshkuk
Kirmin
Raminj
Khuda-abad
Sost
Gircha
Khaibar
Shimshal
Pass
Pasu
Galmit
Baltit
Aliabad
Altit
Ataabad
Mayon
Hindi
Nagar
Chaprot
Chalt
Nilt
Minapin
Nomal
Rakaposhi
Hispar Pass
Gilgit
Haramosh
24270
Bunji
Indus
Shigar
Chilas
Astor
Skardu
Nanga Parbat
26620
Scale 1:1,500,000. (24 Miles = 1 Inch)
30 Miles
50 Kilometres

End Map (B)